SUMMARY

I am a Pharmacognosist possessing Master of Pharmacy Degree in Pharmacognosy and Complementary Medicine from the University of Nairobi (UoN) and Bachelor of Pharmacy Degree from the same university. I am currently undertaking a PhD degree program in Pharmacognosy and Complementary Medicine (PCM) at the UoN. I am a Registered Pharmacist by the Pharmacy and Poisons Board of Kenya and dedicated to generation of knowledge, skills advancement and research in the areas of PCM. I have wealth of working and teaching experience. In aggregate, I have twenty years work experience in pharmaceutical matters, both in academia and hospital set-up. I have at least nine years teaching experience as a full-time Lecturer of PCM. Currently I am a full-time Lecturer at Kenyatta University (KU). I have headed the department of Pharmacognosy and Complementary Medicine at KU. Previously, I taught PCM as full-time lecturer at the School of Pharmacy, Mount Kenya University (MKU). I have also taught PCM as a part-time Lecturer at Jomo Kenyatta University of Agriculture and Technology, The Kenya Medical Training College Mombasa, The Mombasa Polytechnic University College, The Nairobi Institute of Business Studies and the Lake Institute of Tropical Medicine, Kisumu. I have worked for the Ministry of Health (MoH) from 2001 to 2011 as the Hospital Pharmacist in-charge in the following Hospitals: Machakos Provincial General Hospital; New Nyanza Provincial General Hospital; Tigoni District Hospital and Port-Reitz District Hospital. I have worked in Defence Forces Memorial Hospital, Nairobi as a Pharmacist intern. When working for MoH, due to diligence and hard work, I rose through the ranks from Job Group “L” (Pharmacist Intern) to Job Group “P” (Assistant Chief Pharmacist) within a period of six years. I have taught in Makueni Boys High School after excelling in my form four exams in Mang’u High School. Previously, before I joined Mount Kenya University in 2013 to carry out full-time teaching and research, I worked as Hospital Pharmacist in The Mater Hospital, Nairobi. Teaching in KU and MKU as Full-time Lecturer for more than nine years and as Part-time Lecturer in the above mentioned Pharmacy program offering Universities and Colleges for over ten years has given me a wealth of skills in training young and dynamic aspiring pharmacy professionals. I have headed the department of Pharmacognosy and Pharmaceutics in MKU. I was the Chair, Academic advisory and Mentorship Committee of the School of Pharmacy in MKU. I was the Chair, School of Pharmacy Research Committee and the School representative to the MKU Research Committee.
