FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Public Lecture on the Future of Higher Education, to be Held at Kenyatta University

We, Kenyatta University, present to you a Public Lecture themed "Re-imagining the Future of Higher Education in Kenya for a Sustainable Learning Ecosystem," which will be held via a blended mode on Friday, March 28, 2025, at 10:00 AM, KU Amphitheatre.

This lecture will be delivered by Prof. Raphael Munavu, a distinguished figure in Kenya's academic and public service sectors. Prof. Munavu's vast experience, including his leadership roles in the Presidential Working Party on Education Reforms, NACOSTI, and his work as a Professor Emeritus at the University of Nairobi, makes him an ideal speaker to address the key issues impacting the future of higher education in Kenya.

The lecture will cover critical topics, including and not limited to:

1. Financing education: Turning knowledge into practice and unpacking the education system, innovation, incubation, and commercialisation.
2. Resource mobilisation and utilisation: Inculcating an entrepreneurial culture for optimal resource use and exploring diversified funding avenues.
3. Status of public universities: Linking universities with industries and converting intellectual property into products.
4. Emerging technologies: The role of Artificial Intelligence (AI) in unlocking future solutions for universities.

Event Details:

- Date: Friday, March 28, 2025
- Time: 10:00 AM (East Africa Time)
- Venue: KU Amphitheatre
- Platform: Blended (Link will be provided upon RSVP)

We look forward to your participation in this engaging academic discourse.
